TECHNICAL PROJECTS

Code4Web (2026):

Developed a full-stack website template marketplace using Next.js, React.js, Tailwind CSS, and Supabase. The platform allows users to browse, purchase, and customize website templates while providing secure authentication, role-based access, and an admin dashboard for managing users, templates, and orders.

Dairy Farm and Ice Cream Management System (2025):

Developed a web-based management system using React.js and Node.js to streamline dairy farm and ice cream business operations. The application helps manage products, inventory, and business records through an efficient and user-friendly interface.

Unfit to Fit (2023):

Created a fitness-focused website using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript to encourage healthy living and fitness awareness. The website provides an interactive and responsive experience with easy navigation and an attractive user interface.

Ball Game (2024):

Developed an interactive web-based ball game using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, PHP, and MySQL. The project includes gameplay functionality, score management, and database integration while demonstrating both frontend and backend development skills.
